

ARE YOU:

struggling with your child's new diagnosis?

overwhelmed by your toddler's behavior?

wanting to better communicate with the professionals in your child's life?

wondering what will happen to the older adult in your life now that their health is failing them?

perplexed by "the system"?

WHY GEN-SOLUTIONS?

As a mother of children with special needs, I can tell you I have been there. Even with an advanced degree in social work and 12 years of practical work experience, I found myself overwhelmed at times. Some of the most helpful advice came from professionals who truly understood what my family was experiencing. I began Generational Solutions as an independent contractor to give back what I was given...the opportunity to share my expertise as a seasoned social worker and also as a parent who understands.
