

Rachael Weis M.A. CCC-SLP

I am a pediatric speech therapist who is passionate about helping your child learn to communicate. I am certified by the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA) and have over 15 years experience to share with your family. I provide therapy in your home so your child always feels comfortable and secure, and share with you the “tricks of the trade” to get your child talking. I specialize in early intervention and have worked with over 250 families in Delaware County. I am happy to share with you my many references upon your request.

In addition to providing speech therapy, I have also been selected to serve as an Eligibility Evaluator for the Help Me Grow Program of Delaware County. I am trained to assess children 0-3 years old in the areas of adaptive behavior, social-emotional skills, fine and gross motor development, and cognition. I have received extensive training on sensory based regulatory disorders and am certified in American Sign Language. I also hold a degree in Family Relations and Human Development. This allows me to utilize a family centered approach to treatment while closely monitoring other areas of development.
